Whenever you invest, there's a chance you could lose the money.

¹Actual costs vary. Digital Advisor and Personal Advisor will reduce your gross advisory fee by the amount of revenue (such as expense ratio rebates) that Vanguard (or a Vanguard affiliate) collects on your portfolio in order to calculate the net advisory fee. Digital Advisor's annual net advisory fee is approximately 0.15% across your enrolled accounts for a typical investment portfolio. And Personal Advisor's annual net advisory fee is approximately 0.30% across your enrolled accounts for a typical investment portfolio. However your actual net fee will vary depending on the specific holdings in each enrolled account. Your net advisory fee can also vary by enrolled account type. Plan participants' actual advisory fees will vary depending on your plan's lineup and the revenue that Vanguard receives from those investments. Please see your plan fee disclosure notices for the applicable annual gross advisory fees that apply to your plan assets.

²Eligibility periods for fee waivers are tied to the enrollment of your first account. If you have an ineligible account that's been enrolled in Digital Advisor for more than 90 days, new accounts you enroll are not eligible for the fee waiver. If you unenroll before your fee waiver period ends, you won't owe an advisory fee. But if you choose to reenroll in Vanguard Digital Advisor during or after your fee waiver period, you won't be eligible for a second fee waiver. This fee waiver offer may be modified or discontinued anytime at the sole discretion of Vanguard Advisers, Inc. All costs associated with fund expense ratios still apply at all times.

³The full cost of a Vanguard Situational Advisor consultation is $250. But your employer may pay part or all of the fee for you.
